

What content will be covered?

Camps give children the opportunity to learn new skills and techniques as well as developing and fine tuning existing ones. Children are offered an interactive learning experience with an opportunity for participants to meet new friends, help with confidence and ultimately have fun. The sessions focus on a range of rugby skills, drills and activities as well as rugby related games and age group breakdown for specific sessions.

What age camp should my child attend?

Some camps are limited to boys or girls only. This will be highlighted on each camp at the beginning of the booking process. Below are the age groupings. Your child will be in the age category they were at the start of their academic school year. So if your child was in U13s at the beginning of their school year they will be in the same category during the summer camps up until 1st September.

6 – 12: Based on age grade Rugby, Children U7s – U12s

12 – 16: Based on age grade Rugby, Children U13s – U16s

What ability are the camps for?

The Bath Rugby camps are open to all abilities. Our high coaching standards mean that our staff will ensure that sessions are programmed to age appropriate groups, so that participants are not placed into a situation that they won't be comfortable in.

How long are the days?

Camps run from 9.30am – 15.30pm, with a lunch break and scheduled breaks throughout the day.

What should my child bring?

All participants will need to bring a packed lunch, water-bottle and weather appropriate rugby clothing. This should include trainers and boots, shorts and tracksuit bottoms, warm tops, mouth guard, waterproof top, warm hat and suncream.

Can parents watch the sessions?

For day camps parents and guardians can stay to watch the session in the allocated spectator area.

Who carries out the coaching? What about safety?

All coaches will be DBS cleared RFU qualified Bath Rugby Community coaches and will be first aid trained. They are trained to a minimum of RFU Level 2. Parents are requested to provide any medical history or details regarding any previous injuries upon booking to ensure our coaches are fully informed in advance of the camps.

How many other participants will there be?

It depends on the camp and location, but children will be split into smaller age groups to focus the coaching.

Will there be a player at the camp?

Yes, but you'll have to wait to find out who it is on the day! (Please note that this can be subject to change and to player schedules and games).

What are your policies on phones/valuables?

We wouldn't encourage bringing phones and valuables to the camp. However, if they do wish to bring a phone on camp we ask that they do not bring them into the sessions as they can often prove distracting. Bath Rugby is not responsible for any lost, stolen, or damaged personal items of a participants, and are not responsible to replace them in any way.

Weather?

In the event that inclement weather prohibits the players to train outside, an alternative indoor facility will be made available or will be brought to a safe indoor or covered area until the weather has passed. Bath Rugby will do its best under these circumstances to proceed with the activities, but the participant's safety is our first priority.

What is the refund policy?

If you are unable to attend the camp for any reason please give us a minimum of 7 days' notice in order to receive a refund. Please inform us in writing by emailing emma.calvert-jones@bathrugby.com
